

A stylized map of a city grid, tilted at an angle. The grid is composed of black lines. Overlaid on the grid are blue lines and dots, representing a path or network. The blue lines are thicker and more prominent than the grid lines, and they follow a complex, winding route through the grid. The dots are small blue circles placed along the blue lines, possibly indicating specific locations or nodes. The overall image has a high-contrast, graphic quality.